

Laura Cieczkowski

Laura Cieczkowski is an Islander, born and raised on Prince Edward Island. Upon graduating from high school, she immigrated briefly to Halifax, Nova Scotia where she attended NSCAD University. While attending, she worked as an assistant for the NSCAD Film Technician. Laura graduated from NSCAD earning a BFA and film major. As a passionate artist, Laura continues to utilize her skills whether it is in sound design, editing, film, stop motion animation, or painting. As of August 2013, Laura became a member of the IMAC Board of Directors. She currently resides in Charlottetown. Her latest work was sound recording and mixing for the short documentary “To Wrestle,” a film about PEI independent wrestling.